IN A NEW CLASS.

Maggie's Raise In Wages Brought Unexpected Results.

Mrs. Baker, a well to do lady in one of the suburbs of a large eastern city, was fortunate in having an excellent servant. Maggle was capable, quick and good natured. Most of the lady's friends were less fortunate-in fact, few of them were without their distinct trials. At all the fashionable gatherings the conversation turned, like a you a story, but one will be all needle to the pole, atraight to the sublect of servants,

Mrs. Baker said very little, for she had often noticed that an announcement of perfect satisfaction in the domestic line was frequently followed later on by a second autonocement to the effect that the perfect maid had been offered higher wages by Mrs. Soand so and had gone to get them. "Wh Therefore Mrs. Baker followed Br'er Julius.

Rabbit's tactics of "layin' low."

More than this, she decided to be very diplomatic. She would offer Mag- Julia. He was named for Julius Cae gle more wages herself and thus secure sar." her before any one else had a chance. She was pleased with her plan.

"Now, Maggie," she said the next suddenly and quoting: morning, "you've been very faith. "Julius Cassar and cheerful during this hot summer and through Dorothy's Illness, and I like your work so well that I'm going to raise your wages from $3 to $6. Maggie thanked her, and Mrs. Baker smiled at the thought of her own as-diplomatic plans. Youth's Companion. HUMOR OF LONDON CABBIES.

Some of Their Remarks When the Tip Is Not Forthcoming.

Some of the hansom fraternity of London have no sense of humor, but the unjority are decidedly facetious. says London Tit Rits. Here are some examples of witty and sarenstic "enbbylsms."

To appreciate them properly it must be understood that the fare has offered single shilling in payment for a ride just within the two mile limit.

'Are you quite sure you can spare this?" remarks the cabby with a bump of humor. "D'ye think you'll be able to rub along on the other nineteen till next Friday? It's goin' the pace,

"If you'll take my tip, guv'nor," runs another form of gentle reproach, "you'll go and see an oculist. You 'ailed this bus by misinke. You wants a red or green or yellow bus. Black sin't in your line at sil."

"Thank yer, gov'nor," says another cabby, with apparent emotion; "thank yer, kindly. Yer offer is well meant, but I couldn't go for to do it." Saying which he makes a pretense of handing the shilling back to the astonished fare. "But I can't sell him, guv'nor, and that's a fact. Yer 'andsome hoffer'd make me rich for life, but I tell yer I can't sell 'km."

One cabby, who was an excellent actor, on receiving his shilling burst into tears and between his loud sobs jurked out: "I'm sorry you force it on me, guv'nor, I am really. The bincome tax people'il be down on me now."

An excellent "cabbyism" was perpetrated in the suburbs one night. As the fare let himself into the house be was reguled somewhat as follows: "Go in quietly, sir, in case the old woman wakes up and 'ears me drivin' She might stop the rest of yer pocket money for this extravagance.

A Bit of Superstition.

London Answers. One Sunday, a few months ago, an interesting proof of this fact was seen in the parish church of Sutcombe, in north Devon. A woman who suffered from epilepsy sat Hoffman Drug Co. and City Drug attended church, passed her one by one. As they passed each dropped a penny in her lap. The thirtleth took the pennies and gave the woman a half crown, which was to be made into a ring for her to wear. Vain supersti-tion, you exclaim. Yet another woman, also a martyr to eplieptic fits, who went through the same ceremony The Ardmore National Bank at the same place interest years ago has never since suffered.

Some Famous "Dunces." Superstition is by no means dead, of his class. Waiter Scott was told by of his professor that he was a dunce. Both his professor that he was a dunce. Napoleon and Wellington were dull boys at school, and when Clive won Plassy his father said he did not think the booby had so much sense. Chal-mers, the leader of the disruption, was expelled from his school as an incorrigible dunce. Chatterton was sent home as a fool, and Leigh Hunt was con sidered beyond all hope. Issue New ton, the great oriental scholar; Sir Wil liam Jones and Robert Morrison, who complied the immortal Chinese Bible and dictionary, were all regarded as extremely dull boys. - Minneapolis Journal.

Two Duels.

Sainte-Beuve got an excellent adver-tisement out of a duel fought on a wet day by insisting upon holding his umbrella up with one hand while he fired his pistol with the other. He was willing, he courageously said, to take the risk of being shot, but he must be excused from taking the greater risk of catching cold.
